𝗔𝗕𝗥𝗔𝗭𝗔𝗧𝗔𝗡𝗚𝗢 OPEN PRÁCTICA

Jessica Gerdel abrazatango@gmail.com

Salon Sechshaus (Sechshauser Straße 48 top 2)

Welcome to the friendliest práctica! What's it all about? Prácticas are gatherings to practice tango in an informal setting and to socialize with other tango enthusiasts. It's a space for trying out the new knowledge you've got or even to learn the basics from other attendants if you're new to tango. As well as to share/ask for feedback. Preserving the original purpose of tango Prácticas, here all levels of experience and backgrounds are welcome to experiment, play and get rid of the weight of judgement on the dance floor, in order to expand your skills and gain confidence in your dance. I play the music in tandas for the sole purpose of helping new members to get familiar with the structure they can expect when attending their first milongas (though my selection of music is not what you typically find in most milongas in town), and as a reference for the partner switching so everyone gets the chance to practice. It's up to you the choice of which songs you dance and with whom you want to dance them (even alone if you're practicing solo technique). We don't tie roles to a gender identification. Dance and practice whichever you like. Most regular participants practice both. There's space enough in the room for those interested in practicing the social circulation in the dance floor as well as for those that need to stay on a fixed spot practicing whatever moves they're working on. I'm available for feedback if you want to ask for it (it's not a class). There's no entry fee in order to keep the Práctica inclusive. Be mindful of what it implies to sustain spaces in these times and of your role to keep this system available. If you need a reference for a fair contribution, most prácticas and milongas in Vienna are 10€. A minimum of 5€ is suggested if you can't afford that average, or reach out to me about your case. I serve snacks and soft drinks. You're welcome to bring something to share in the common table too if you like. Come with an open mind to co-create a welcoming, friendly and respectful atmosphere for all.

Join us this Sunday after the classes, from 19:30 to 21:30 in Salon Sechshaus (Sechshauser Straße 48 top 2). Bring dance sneakers / practice shoes or a pair of socks (no high heels at this location).* Want to join the classes too? Check out the details at jessicagerdel.com/#agenda
